Q: Is it possible to share a link to a bounty question to ask related questions? When a bounty is placed on a question, can one share the link to it to help with the proposed answer? If it is, how do I do that? (I assume it goes through the share function.) Is there a benefit to doing this, and who would be the receiver? I wouldn't think a lot of people on SO would care to see the question, but a bountied one might be of particular interest to a question-asker. (If there was a standard format, with no images, text only links, and scrolling enabled, that would make this easy to share. Or if it was in a Facebook group....) A: The proposed answer is a fascinating read for a lot of people. I think a better way to go about this is to create a mini-question on that topic, where an answerer might respond to in an up-vote, link to the bounty and/or question, instead of answering the bounty question. Conventionally, in a suspension of an automotive vehicle, each piston in a suspension spring is respectively formed with a skirt at both axial ends thereof for slidably engaging in a cylinder groove in the outer periphery of the corresponding one of a plurality of leaf springs which are coupled in a tension-compression state to each other through cross members. The rigidity of such a suspension spring can be maintained so that the suspension spring can be used for a long period. However, when a shock absorber is provided between the corresponding piston and the outer periphery of the leaf spring, the rigidity of the suspension spring may be diminished. When a shock absorber is installed between the corresponding piston and the outer periphery of the leaf spring, it is necessary to provide a relatively large assembly space for installation of the suspension spring. In order to maintain the rigidity of a suspension spring, it has been proposed to provide a special film having a thickness which is slightly greater than the thickness of the stem of the piston for maintaining the rigidity of the suspension spring by blocking the internal space of the stem. d0c515b9f4
