Using several batteries and several adapters is really convenient. But I always have problems when the new battery needs some time to recharge. BE2works allows to store data on the battery so the software will remember whether to charge or not the battery. http://www.be2works.com/products/lorica/lorica_devices_list/lorica_lorica_aztech-luv. Hey guys i'm a developer and i bought a networked Be2Works (but it was the pro version) and i'm having a really hard time to activate it.. i do not have a serial key (i have bought only the download version on the site) and it is not working.. I know it is not the first time that someone uses the serial from the site, but. Be2Works is a networked version of the electric bike from Berlin. I bought two years ago so far and it is still not working. The people from the shop could not help. Now I need to finish some big project.
