Beyond that, the program includes basic editing tools such as curves, levels, and the like. For monthly subscriptions, Adobe sends out a monthly invoice. Monthly plans work as long as you're subscribed to the plan. If you choose the annual subscription plan, then Adobe sends you an invoice once per year. You can cancel at any time. You then own your software and can use it for as long as you want. Annual plans are $49.99 to renew. Adobe grants a perpetual license to its software through the Software Assurance program, which lets you use the software forever. For $2,500, Adobe will provide you with a subscription to the software and any updates that may be released. These subscriptions are available in tiers of one year or even lifetime.
